The Birthplace of Country Music (BCM) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that seeks to perpetuate, promote, and celebrate Bristol’s rich musical heritage; to educate and engage audiences worldwide regarding the history, impact and legacy of the 1927 Bristol Sessions from which we derive our name; and to create recognition, opportunities, and economic benefit for our local and regional communities.

BCM accomplishes this mission through its three primary branches (Museum, Festival, and Radio), special projects and events, and a multitude of community and educational outreach programs. A brief description of the three primary entities follows:

Birthplace of Country Music Museum
- The Museum, an affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution, opened on August 1, 2014.
- The Museum is 24,000 sq. ft. on two levels.
- The Museum also houses a large space for special exhibits, a performance theater, the radio station, a learning center and The Museum Store.
- The Core Exhibits are highly interactive and feature a number of video experiences as well as various artifacts relating to the 1927 Bristol Sessions and other aspects of Bristol’s musical legacy.
- The Museum has received numerous awards including the highest awards in its state organizations and has been recognized for Leadership in History by the American Association of State and Local History.

Bristol Rhythm & Roots Reunion
- The annual music Festival began in 2001.
- The Festival hosts over 130 bands on 20 stages in downtown Bristol during the third weekend in September.
- Attendance has grown to approximately 45,000 each year.
- The Festival has been named as one of Rolling Stone’s “Top 20 Tours and Festivals,” and has won a Grand Pinnacle Award from the International Festival and Events Association.
- A 2015 Economic Impact Study showed that visitors to the Festival from outside the region had a $16.1 million impact on the region.
Radio Bristol

- Radio Bristol is a network of channels showcasing the diversity of American roots music from the early recording era to today.
- Providing local listeners with a radio signal at 100.1 FM, and reaching the world through our online media players and mobile app, Radio Bristol produces original programming through recordings and live sessions from the Birthplace of Country Music Museum and the surrounding region.

Why is Bristol Tennessee/Virginia known as the birthplace of country music?

In the summer of 1927, just two months after Charles Lindbergh made the first flight across the Atlantic in the Spirit of St. Louis, and during the season that Babe Ruth was blasting out 60 home runs for the Yankees, record producer Ralph Peer of the Victor Talking Machine Company was making music history in Bristol TN-VA. Between July 25 and August 5 of that year, Peer conducted recording sessions using the new Western Electric electronic microphone during which 19 performers (or groups of performers) recorded 76 songs.

Those sessions – the now legendary “Bristol Sessions” – are known as the “Big Bang” of modern country music.

The 1927 Bristol Sessions featured the first recordings of both Jimmie Rodgers and the Carter Family. Jimmie Rodgers is now referred to as the “Father of Country Music” and was the first person inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame. The Carter Family, featuring A.P., Sara, and Maybelle Carter, is now known as “The First Family of Country Music” and are also in the Hall of Fame. The 1927 Bristol Sessions not only initiated the careers of these superstar performers but initiated the broad commercialization of country music. Many of the songs and stylings of those sessions still resonate and influence the music of today. For these reasons, in 1998 the United States Congress officially designated Bristol TN/VA as the “Birthplace of Country Music.”

The 1927 Bristol Sessions are also significant due to the technological advances used to record them. The invention of the Western Electric microphone changed the dynamics of recorded sound. In addition, Ralph Peer’s introduction of the royalty system set the standard for the country music industry we know today.

Tourism is such a huge part of Virginia’s economy. It is a $20 billion enterprise that employs 200,000 folks and what we have here — as it relates to tourism — is a real jewel. The impact of this museum is about $50 million over the next five years…This is a milestone in the history of Bristol.

No matter if you’re there for Music or History (or both) the Museum and Staff are awesome. Attending events in the sound stage are magical as well, makes you feel like the musicians are throwing you a Private Concert.

Must admit that prior to visiting I had no idea about Bristol being at the center of spreading the reach of country music via the early recording industry. A beautiful building with well thought out and interesting displays.

As our hotel’s name, ‘The Sessions’, suggests, the Birthplace of Country Music with its events, and its spectacular museum, is the primary reason we decided to locate our unique hospitality complex in beautiful downtown Bristol.

This is my second trip to Bristol to go to this Museum. It is so interesting. It is a great learning experience. We are always delighted to remember our childhood thru museums like this. We spent over 4 hours there and it was the second time we have.

The adjacent Birthplace of Country Music Museum was the key factor in our decision to move forward with the revitalization of the Executive Plaza Building into THE BRISTOL HOTEL with a capital investment of over $20 million.
